

FIST FIGHT ABOARD SHIP ENDS FATALLY

Engineer of Half Moon Dies
—Assistant Held in $5,000 Bail.

RUM CAUSED BATTLE

Men Struggle From Stateroom to Deck and Thence to Ship's Bridge.

A fist fight on the shipping board steamer Half Moon at her pier at Staten Island, which started, according to the police, over half a dozen bottles of smuggled rum, resulted yesterday in the death of Charles Burch, 37, her chief engineer. Ernest Carter, first assistant engineer, was sent to Richmond County Jail in default of $5,000 bail after a hearing before Magistrate Croake at Stapleton as Burch's assailant.

The Half Moon arrived Thursday from Liverpool with a general cargo and tied up at Pier 22, foot of Edgewater street, Rosebank. According to the story Carter told the police, both he and Burch had brought some rum in their cabins and Friday night Burch took his ashore and disposed of it. Yesterday morning, he declared, Burch came into his cabin and demanded Carter's bottles of rum. Carter refused to turn them over to him and a fight began.

The fight started in the stateroom and soon continued up on the deck. Still fighting, the men climbed from the deck to the bridge, where Carter, the police say, managed to land a decisive blow. It struck Burch on the jaw and the chief engineer went through the bridge railing and fell twelve feet to the deck, landing on his head. His skull was fractured.

Burch was taken to the Staten Island Hospital, where he died in a few minutes. Carter waited aboard ship till the police came for him and made no resistance.

A conflict over jurisdiction may result in the case, it was indicated when the United States Attorney's office in Brooklyn asked for the surrender of Carter to the Federal authorities on the ground that the fight having occurred aboard a United States Shipping Board vessel, the offence was a Federal one. The police refused to surrender Carter and the matter will be threshed out before Magistrate Croake to-day.

AMERICANS TO EXHIBIT AT FAIR IN TRIESTE

Bureau Installed in Cosulich
Steamship Office.

Inquiries made through the American Manufacturers' Export Association indicate that many American manufacturers, as well as those of Canada and South American countries, will have large exhibits of goods of their making on hand when the International Sample Fair opens on May 1, 1922, at Trieste, Italy.

Oscar Cosulich, director general of the Cosulich Steamship Company and president of the Fair Commission, has installed an information bureau in the company's office at 17 Battery place, where details of the coming fair are obtainable.

The Trieste Sample Fair, under the patronage of the City of Trieste and the Municipal Chamber of Commerce and Industry of that city, has been in preparation many months and will exhibit samples of the most modern Italian, Levant, Oriental and Balkan products from Austria, South Germany, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Roumania, Poland and Jugoslavia, in addition to exhibits from elsewhere throughout the world.

MANY ON CAMERONIA FOR MEDITERRANEAN

Cunard-Anchor Liner Starts on Five Weeks' Cruise.

Taking to smoother and warmer seas at the approach of winter, the Cunard-Anchor liner Cameronia, which usually plies between this port and Glasgow, sailed yesterday for a five weeks' cruise in the Mediterranean.

The liner is the first large oil burning ship to enter the Mediterranean passenger service. She carried 115 first, 116 second and 992 stateroom passengers. Among those on board were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Bridgman of Boston, Dr. Harry Garfield, president of Williams College, and Mrs. Garfield, Mr. and Mrs. Beyerly Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Montgomery and family of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Zimmerman.

PORT DEVELOPMENT PRIZES.

$25 for Best Essays in High Schools and Colleges.

Prizes of $25 each are offered to senior high school and college students in public schools of New York city for the best essays on port development and its relation to the cost of living. The Educational Council of the Port of New York Authority is conducting the contest, and Postmaster-General Hays and United States Senator William M. Calder of New York have agreed to act as judges.

The general topic will be adapted to the various localities in the port district. A motion picture illustrating the report of the New York and New Jersey Port and Harbor Development Commission is being shown with a view to stimulating interests in the subject.

DR. LORENZ TO HELP CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Master of Bloodless Surgery
Comes From Austria to Pay
Debt of Gratitude.

Dr. Adolf Lorenz of Vienna, Austria, one of the most noted surgeons in the world, reached New York last night on the French liner Paris on a mission of gratitude to the American people.

In this country Dr. Lorenz is best known for his almost miraculous cure of Lolita Armour. Miss Armour, who is now Mrs. John J. Mitchell, Jr., was five years old in 1902 and had been pronounced by the most distinguished surgeons of this country a hopeless cripple with a hip dislocated at birth.

"I am here to try—though I know it is absolutely impossible—to repay to poor crippled children of America the good deeds which have been done by Americans to the starving and diseased children of my own land," Dr. Lorenz said. "I want to do something for children here who have suffered from hip disease or other afflictions. It is possible to cure with bloodless surgery and I hope to place my knowledge and experience of this type of surgery at the disposal of American surgeons."

Dr. Lorenz spoke with great emphasis of the help that American men and women and American money have given to the undernourished children of Vienna and the rest of Austria. He explained that had it been possible he would have come here sooner to pay his debt of gratitude. He comes at his own expense and will accept no payment for the operations he performs here. It is his intention of giving the widest possible demonstration of his methods so that American surgeons may benefit.

Although Dr. Lorenz is now 67, he appears to be in perfect health, with that iron wrist and strength of fingers so necessary in the use of bloodless surgery. By that strength, which literally rips and wrenches the malformed parts, club feet are straightened, hips are forced into sockets and other deformities corrected.

Dr. Lorenz will demonstrate his orthopedic surgery at the medical school of the Post Graduate Hospital in this city. He will be associated with Prof. Frederick Albee. He said last night that he hoped to see Herbert Hoover while in this country, for what he and America have done for Austrian children. He also will thank Mayor Hylan for New York's assistance.

When in this country last, in 1902, Dr. Lorenz demonstrated his skill at a number of hospitals in this and other cities, but was unable to carry out all the bloodless operations which scores of children and their parents begged him to undertake. Ten policemen were necessary to keep in order mothers of crippled children who waited for him outside the operating theatre of the Cornell University Medical College at First avenue and Twenty-eighth street.

Dr. Lorenz will remain here several months. He went last night to the Murray Hill Hotel.

MERCURY REACHES 73; 48 DEGREE DROP NEAR

Cold Wave Due Here Tonight or Early To-morrow.

Despite the fact that the mercury soared up to 73 degrees at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, spring is not here, and it would be foolish, on the authority of the United States Weather Bureau, to buy a straw hat.

One of the most rapid and spectacular drops in temperature which ever puzzled weather worn New Yorkers is coming to-night or early to-morrow morning, when the thermometer is scheduled to record 25 degrees, a drop in thirty-six hours or so of 48 degrees.

The figure 73 degrees exceeded by two points the high record set Friday. Yesterday was by far the hottest November 19 this city ever has known. Back in 1900 the mercury reached 67 degrees for a little while on November 19.

The reason for this belated heat wave is the continued winds from the south, but these winds are scheduled to cease blowing to-day some time as the skies clear and then out of the northwest will come the first really icy blasts of winter.

FIFTH DIVISION MEN HONOR SERGT. WOODFILL

Luncheon at Army and Navy
Club for Hero.

Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, who was designated by Gen. Pershing as "the most notable American soldier," was the guest of honor yesterday at a luncheon given by the Society of the Fifth Division at the Army and Navy Club.

Justice Philip J. McCook, national president of the Society of the Fifth Division, was toastmaster. To the 100 guests he read letters and telegrams from a score of persons, including Secretary of War Weeks, several Major-Generals and other prominent officials and civilians.

"I can't make speeches," said Sergeant Woodfill. "It is enough to say that I am deeply touched by the warmth of your greetings." Speakers were Grover A. Whalen, Col. Ralph B. Ingram, Sydney Gumpertz, Judge J. J. Hogan, James F. Kiernan and Gen. Oliver B. Bridgman, president of the Army and Navy Club.

$200,000 ALIENATION JUDGMENT SET ASIDE

Testimony of Detective Not Accepted by Referee.

Upon a recommendation made last May by Philip J. Sinnott as referee judgment was entered in the Supreme Court yesterday on behalf of Mrs. Hunter Le Grand Wilson, setting aside a judgment for $200,000 granted against her a year ago upon the complaint of Mrs. Laura Cave Wilson, a former wife of Wilson, who charged the present Mrs. Wilson with alienating Wilson's affections.

The report of Mr. Sinnott recommended that no regard be paid to the testimony of a Burns detective, who testified that he served Mrs. Wilson with a summons and complaint in the alienation suit at the Waldorf-Astoria. She testified that she was not served and did not know the suit had been brought until she read of it in a newspaper. The judgment against her was taken by default.

STORAGE TURKEY PLENTY.

Boston, Nov. 19.—Five times as much turkey is in cold storage warehouses in this State available for Thanksgiving tables this year as there was a year ago, Hermann C. Lythgoe, director of the food and drug division of the State Department of Health, said in statistics which he made public to-day. These figures showed 176,424 pounds of poultry in storage on November 1, as compared with 29,394 pounds in 1920.
